“Who said it was a bad market?? I was told by friends and family that the current market climate was the worst in 20 years. If that was so, then my choice of agent obviously performed a miracle. I was sold in just 1 day at a price that exceeded well above the reserve. It was a no-fuss discussion when talking about marketing and the property appeared on the net without delay as my timing was imperative – in fact I was sold before it even got there. All I had to do was keep the home presented nicely and David did the rest. In this day and age I thought perhaps it didn't matter about engaging with a local agent however choosing locally in David, I firmly believe that it made the difference in terms of time on market and the end sale price. If a magician is what you need, look no further than The Amazing David Wilson”

I wish to place on record my heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the highly professional assistance rendered to me by David and his team, which no doubt has been a decisive factor in the sale of my residence in Tingalpa within one week of listing. Having been through other agents with unsatisfactory results I can only recommend your agency without hesitation to anyone contemplating the sale of their property. Congratulations also on truly advocating for both me (the seller) as well as the buyer.

Your commitment and professionalism were second to none and once again I thank you sincerely for such an easy and effortless transaction considering I am based interstate. Keep up the good work!

David provided such a professional but personalised service that more than met our expectations. All went to plan so well and although I was hesitant to proceed with an auction, it was really worth it. If we were selling property in the future , I would definitely utilise his real estate expertise.”
